could be arranged to come out in harmony. "Thereafter, it was only natural that ORNL programmers gave 1604 time out for caroling during the holidays.

The two new computers, which cost a total of $9 million, are more efficient. Somebody, possibly with the aid of another computer, figured out that one of them can do the computations of the entire world population, working day and night with pencil and paper. And most of the $6,000 monthly maintenance cost is expected to be saved.

But neither of the new computers can sing, which an ORNL spokesman says, "will be greatly missed."

Unique in motion picture history! A cast of hundreds—every one a "star" but not one of them a great name!

It's "Alaskan Safari," a brilliant color presentation with thrills, adventure and breath-taking moments in America's "last frontier," opening soon in Hope, Ark. at the Saenger Theatre.

"Alaskan Safari" was filmed in the natural habitat of the brown bear, polar bear, moose, dall sheep, caribou, and combines hunting and fishing thrills with some of the continent's most brilliant scenery. The outstanding photography was done at great risks by cameramen and bush pilots to bring you magnificent closeups of huge game animals.

Unusual for this type presentation is the direct sound track which brings to the audience a chilling scream of the bald eagle—along with the hair-raising growls of bears and other sounds peculiar to the far north country.

Viewers are certain to be impressed by the air strips on tundra meadows, gravel bars and raw beaches from which Alaska's famed "bush pilots" take-off and land in pursuit of big game.

Israel Nobel Prize Winner Dies at 81

JERUSALEM (AP) — S. Y. Agnon, Israel's 81-year-old Nobel prize winning author, died today of a heart attack, the state radio announced. He had been ill for several months.

Agnon was the second 1966 Nobel winner to die in as many days. Dr. Peyton Rous of the United States, who shared the 1966 prize for medicine, died in

New York early Monday of cancer. He was 90.

Agnon shared his Nobel award for literature with the Jewish poetess Nelly Sachs of Sweden.

Agnon wrote only in Hebrew, drawing on his boyhood in Poland and his later life in Jerusalem.

His style, often mystic and Kafkaesque, baffled many of his readers. He liked puns told in the language of the Bible, rich in adjectives and in various grammatical forms.

He is survived by his widow, a daughter and a son, Hemdat.

Jury to Hear Testimony in Bank Deal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U.S. Grand Jury is expected to hear testimony today at Little Rock concerning Harlan Lane, former chairman of the board at Union National Bank of Little Rock.

The jury began its regular spring session Monday, with U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley urging the jurors to exercise caution in issuing indictments.

"There is some degree of social stigma associated with an indictment, even though the defendant may be acquitted by a petit jury," Henley said.

Lane said recently he believed several bank officials had been subpoenaed to appear before the jury because of an investigation of a loan made to a Washington company.

Lane said the loan was made by Union National Bank when he was an officer and was guaranteed by La-Co Inc. Lane, who is one of the principal La-Co stockholders, said the firm received a $125,000 fee for guaranteeing the loan.

Donald Couch, recently elected president of Union National, is also president of La-Co.

ALC Group to Study Reforms and Tax Plan

By ROBERT SHAW

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 100-member committee, including 25 legislators, has been created to study the state tax structure, and suggest reforms to the legislature.

The Arkansas Legislative Council created the committee Monday when it approved a resolution by Sen. Joe Ford of Little Rock. The Legislative Advisory Committee on Tax Reform will report its recommendations to the General Assembly by Jan. 15, 1971.

The group will include 16 state representatives, nine senators and 75 persons representing agriculture, industry, business, education, labor and consumers.

Ford said he hoped the Legislative Council would make its appointments to the committee by July 1.

"A total look at the entire tax burden on the people of Arkansas is long overdue," Ford told the council. "Additional taxes can't be justified until we have tax equity among taxpayers."

want all convictions, all acquittals or a hung jury," he said.

The defendants are charged with violating the 1968 federal anti-riot law by conspiring to cross state lines with the intent to incite riots at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

In addition, five defendants are charged with a second count of crossing state lines to incite rioting and the other two defendants are charged with teaching the use of an incendiary device.

If convicted on both counts, each man could be sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $20,000.

Despite speculation that the length of the jury's deliberations might indicate a deadlock, the delay might be attributed to the massive amount of evidence and exhibits presented during the trial which began Sept. 24.

Appointed Man Can Seek to Be Elected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office said Monday that a person appointed as mayor of a city has the right to seek election to succeed himself.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Michael Barrier, who issued the opinion, also said that fees in criminal cases in mayor's courts or justice of the peace courts should be paid into the general fund of the city or county in question.

Alderman W. F. Miller of Parkin requested the opinion. In another opinion, the attorney general's office said that the only valid write-in vote in Arkansas is one where the voter actually writes in the full name of the person for whom the vote is cast.

Maurice Sagely, superintendent of Lonoke schools, had asked if a sticker bearing the write-in candidate's name would be legal.

Couch, an ally of Lane, was recently named president and chief executive officer of Union National Bank.

The March 31 note was also secured by 2,000 shares in DBS Inc. and was to be used to pay off an earlier $75,000 note in the name of United Diversified Inc.

Bank Official Sued for Loan of $150,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Bank of New Orleans and Trust Co. has filed a suit at Little Rock against Harlan Lane, former chairman of the board of Union National Bank, in an attempt to collect $150,000 in promissory notes.

The suit, filed by Alston Jennings of Little Rock, contends that Lane refused to pay a $75,000 loan when it came due Jan. 2, 1970. The suit says the loan was made April 1, 1969.

The suit says another $75,000 loan was made to Lane March 31, 1969 and is due March 31, 1970. The bank contends that nonpayment of the April 1 note matured the March 31 note and made it payable on demand.

The suit alleges that Lane also refused to pay the second note, a pledge of 2,000 shares in DBS Inc., a subsidiary of La-Co Inc., was used to secure the April 1 note. Lane owns a controlling interest in La-Co.

The April 1 loan was to "pay off a note in name of Donald

A contrast between the 1874 Arkansas State Constitution and the newly drafted constitution was brought into focus Monday when Bill Etter, a delegate, spoke at the weekly meet of the Hope Lions Club at Town & Country.

Mr. Etter, who follows in the footsteps of his father who was also a constitution delegate, told the group the main body of the 1874 document comprised of 19 articles of 46,000 words while the newly drafted one has 12 articles and 15,000 words. He described the second half of the new constitution which is divided into three main parts.

The legislative process by which the new constitution might be changed was described. The Roman 111 part of the second half consisted of provisions having a limited life and was designed to cover the transition from the old to the new. Delegate Etter commended the brevity and timeliness of the new document and said that while it would be impossible to please everyone he felt that for present day needs it was a good constitution for the state to adopt.

In the near future books will be printed and distributed explaining the new proposal in detail. Hempstead County had been allotted about 1,000 of these books.

Hubert Thrash arranged the program. Guests were Elmer Smith of James Motor Co., Tina Martin and Karen Beggs of Hope High School. H.H. Burke, Arkansas Weights and Standards Dept., was introduced as a new member by his sponsor, Leon Prescott.

Marionettes Play 'Alice in Wonderland'

The children of Hope will be taken on a fun-filled tour through a wonderland of Marionette magic, on Thursday, Feb. 19 when the world famous, "Nicolo Marionettes" perform their new action-packed musical version of "Alice in Wonderland" at High School Auditorium.

Never before has Wonderland been so joyously brought to the stage as it is in Nicolo's bright modern adaptation of Lewis Carroll's one hundred year old children's classic. The entire Nicolo staff of professional experts in the fields of puppetry, stage design, play-writing and music have combined their efforts to produce a show which proves conclusively that Carroll must have had marionettes in mind when he first wrote his masterpiece. No other entertainment medium has been able to bring the fantastic creatures of wonderland so vividly to life.

with Mrs. O.F. Lloyd. The president, Mrs. Lawrence Easterling, opened the meeting, and all joined in singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

The hostess based her devotion on the book of Matthew, and Mrs. Merlin Cox led in prayer. "Color" was the report of housing leader, Mrs. Woodrow Baker. Mrs. C.G. Tit gave a health report on "Anemias."

Mrs. George Walden won the door prize, and a large number of the members received gifts from their Secret Pals. During the recreational period, a club auction was held to raise money.

Ice cream and cake, coffee or cold drinks were served to 14 members and Master Mike Vines. In March the hostesses will be Mrs. Creighton Middlebrooks and Mrs. L.K. Wreyford.

PACK 92 MEETS

Pack 92 of Brookwood School held their "Blue and Gold" banquet on Saturday, February 14, at the Unity Church Educational Bldg. There were approximately 34 present.

The boys set up an exhibit table to show off their handiwork for their advancements. Each boy presented his mother with a blue and gold corsage which also set the color scheme for the table settings with a lovely Valentine centerpiece courtesy of Hope Florist.

The opening ceremony was the lighting of blue and gold candles to represent the letters CUBS led by Den Chief Paul Patton, Denner-Harold Polindexter, Sgt.-at-arms, Scott Brown; Assistant Denner-Taylor King; and the invocation was led by cubmaster Jerry Brown followed by a delicious pot luck supper.

The guests welcomed during the evening were Explorer Post 90 led by Ed Hartsfield. These boys also presented the program of Indian dances i.e. the Devil's Dance and the Eagle's Dance with a brief history of these dances. Participants were Bill McCulley, Alphonso Ray, Allen Foster and Larry Patton. Also present was Webelos Leader Jess Anderson and Webelos LaGrone and Walker who told the boys about what it means to be a Webelos. They accepted officially into their ranks Cub Dennis Paul Fletcher of Pack 92. A Bobcat pin went to Mark Moore, a 5th silver arrow and Assistant Denner Bar to Taylor King, Wolf Badge and silver arrow to Dennis Fletcher.

Assistant Den Mother Mrs. Ural Polindexter received a plaque in gratitude for her work in the den with thanks also going to Mrs. Roger Fletcher, Ural Polindexter-Den Dad, and Den Chief Paul Patton for their every ready hands. It was also announced that while the Charter was to be renewed next month, it was necessary to find more leaders since several of the group would either be moving up to higher positions within the next few months or leaving Hope altogether. So an appeal is out to parents of boys of Cub Scout age at Brookwood School to give Pack 92 their help in keeping this group going.

During the closing ceremony, Song leader David Allen led in the singing of America followed by a brief moment of prayer in thanks for a lovely evening of fellowship.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Mrs. H.C. Whitworth was hostess for a meeting of her Friday Bridge Club on February 13. After two tables of club members had enjoyed a pleasant afternoon, scores were tallied and Mrs. Louise Kalin and Mrs. M. McCoughan were high.

The group was served Karo nut pie, mints and coffee for refreshments.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnston of Benton entertained the Dickinson-Johnston wedding party with a rehearsal dinner on Friday, February 13 at the Heritage House.

The bride-elect, Miss Sherry Dickinson, wore a white and navy double knit frock and planned pink carnations at her shoulder. Pink and white carnations centered the table where covers were laid for 14.

Miss Dickinson and her fiancé, Tommy Johnston, chose this time to present gifts to the members of the wedding party.

VALENTINE'S DAY DANCE

An Adult Valentine Dance was held at the Hope Country Club on February 14 with Mr. and Mrs. G.D. Royston, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jerry R. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Solomon as the host couples.

METHODIST KINDERGARTEN HAS VALENTINE PARTY

The children of the Methodist Kindergarten enjoyed a Valentine Party on Friday at the Kindergarten. Extending a unit of study on the Post Office, the children set up a miniature post office the first of the week. Each child had a "mail box" and, under the direction of a staff of postal clerks, mailed his own valentines. Shalish Lockhart served as postmistress, and postal clerks were: Alecia Abbott, Cathy Cox, Jana Townsend, Patricia Rowe, Penny McIver, Shelli Embry, Cindy Johnson, Cary Gilbert, David Watkins, Eddy War-mack, Jon Wood, and Steven Watkins. Lesha Cooper and Bill Hudson acted as aides. On Friday the children prepared the refreshments for the party. Each child had made a valentine flower for room decoration and the flowers also doubled as gifts for kindergarten mothers. Jennifer Royal decorated the tables. In the game of bean bag toss, David Watkins was the only one who hit the heart target.

It was a hearts-and-flowers dinner meeting for the Hope B & PW Club on Thursday, February 12 at the Diamond. "Be My Valentine" proclaimed the table runners, and a tiny gazebo on the head table also carried out a Valentine theme. Many of the members received gifts from their capsule sisters, and several favors were at each place.

James H. Jones, Superintendent of Hope Schools, spoke in behalf of the millage increase for schools which will be decided by vote March 10. The club, then, went on record in support of the millage increase and urged everyone to vote in this very important election.

B & PW District Director Mary Sue DuBose of Magnolia spoke to the club on Membership and stressed that everyone in the organization is a part of the membership committee and should strive to enlist more people to

For a Bright Smile

Brushing teeth after meals sounds more like a health hint than a beauty pointer—but actually, it's both. Brushing not only makes for decay-free teeth, it makes for a bright, attractive smile which accents a woman's beauty.

President Mary Andrews conducted the business meeting and welcomed the guests, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Jones, Mary Louise Copeland, Mrs. Verna Ayers, Debbie Rochler of Farmington, Ark., and Mrs. G.B. Morris.

Coming, Going

Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Guerin and family, Conway, and Dr. and Mrs. John Nix and family, Texarkana, visited Dr. Emmett Thompson this weekend, and the Nix family also were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Nix.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kilpsch, Miss Juanita Nicholson, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith went to the U of A Saturday to a recital in which Tony Smith, oboist, fulfilled requirements to receive a bachelor of music degree with honors in the spring. The musical renditions were recorded by Mr. Kilpsch.

On Spring Scene

Knits and crochet hats, in lightweight fabrics, are very much "in" on the spring scene. And nothing looks better under them than bouncy, springy curls — unless it's the bowl-shaped, shepherd-style hair of the swinging long, straight, flowing locks. You can pick from the hair fashions. Just make sure tresses are clean and shiny, then style to suit your face and needs.

People Moving About the USA Now

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP) — An ever-increasing number of Americans are moving from one part of the country to another, according to a new forecast by the Census Bureau.

California will gain the most, estimated at 1,000,000 persons, according to the forecast, which was based on migration trends of the early 1960's.

"The migration from state to state has changed from these trends," says the bureau director, Dr. George H. Brown. "California has not been gaining as much, and states with outmigration have not been losing as much."

The new estimates also indicate Florida will gain two seats, and Arizona, Texas and Colorado one each. This would make California's delegation the largest at 43. New York would be next at 39.

New York and Pennsylvania are expected to lose two seats each, and North Dakota, West Virginia, Ohio, Iowa, and Wisconsin one each.

Gains or losses forecast for Arizona, Florida, Texas, North Dakota, West Virginia, Iowa, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin are unchanged from a bureau table dated March 7, 1967.

But at that time, the bureau forecast California would gain six seats, New Jersey would gain one and Connecticut would possibly gain one. The bureau didn't mention Colorado. It predicted one-seat losses for Illinois, Michigan, New York and Oklahoma, and said Ohio would lose one and possibly two seats. Now, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois, Michigan and Oklahoma are expected to show no gain or loss.

NO KNOCK—WHO'S THERE?—RELATIVES

Dear Helen: We live in an apartment that has a downstairs doorbell and an upstairs door to knock on.

Do you think any of our family would use either? Not they just barge in like we were kids instead of being married for almost a month! Sooner or later this will prove embarrassing, especially on Saturday mornings. I put a "Please Knock" sign on the door, but my husband took it down. Must we keep our door locked, just because of in-laws?

—RUFFLED WIFE

Dear Wife: Apartment dwellers should keep their doors locked because of OUTLAW! And if this discourages walk-in-laws, dandy.

Why not ask them to ring the downstairs doorbell—so you'll be unlocked and waiting? I think they'll get the message.—H.

Dear Helen: I have been having a fear that when I stand in front of the window I'll be shot, or when I go out, I'll be kidnapped or attacked. The world is beginning to be a terror. I have awful dreams about the Zodiac killer and others who haven't been caught.

My best friend died recently and I've been awfully blue. Could this be the reason for my fright? —S.E.

Dear S: Depression often triggers unreasonable fear. The loss of your best friend may have made you realize how close death is and so you look for it in every shadow.

"Talking it out" is the best cure. Don't be embarrassed. Your mother surely understands about "the terrors." She'll help you lick them.—H.

Dear Helen: One minute they're warning you that cigarettes are killers, and the next comes a TV commercial implying you can't take a walk in the country, or have a love affair, or get the job done without them. I wonder if little kids, watching TV, get confused? It's like telling them the bad guy is the good guy is the bad guy is the good guy.

So they probably whip out a candy cigarette to calm their nerves. And how come candy cigarettes, with authentic-looking labels on the pack, are still sold? This is like telling children war is rotten, then giving them toy machine guns to play with.—DISGUSTED DIMITRI

Dear Dimitri: That tool! Yup. The whole scheme seems as dumb as our government's policy of spending as much on anti-cigarette education and research as they do to subsidize tobacco farmers.

Incidentally, John F. Ben-zhaf, whose crusade forced networks to carry anti-cigarette ads, is now gunning for candy cigarette makers, in a roundabout way. His contention: Tobacco companies entice kids to future bad habits by allowing their trademarks copied. So those guilty should lose said trademarks.

You know, I've often wondered: If candy cigarettes make it with the FTC, why not soft drinks in imitation whisky bottles?

Think on THAT, lawmakers! —H.

Dear Helen: Would you print once again the address of VIET-NAM MAIL CALL, where you can send letters to be forwarded to overseas servicemen—and hopefully get answers?—THE GIRLS

Dear Girls: It's: VIETNAM MAIL CALL, Box 3104-A, Columbus, Georgia. Enclose a nickel with each letter for overseas postage.—H.

Hope Star SPORTS Local Girls Advance in Dist. Play

By BILL MOORE

Last night in the first game of the Southern Girls District 7-A tournament at Nashville, the Hope Ladycats defeated the Foreman Gators, 34-27.

The next tournament game for Hope will be Thursday night against the Ashdown Pantherettes.

Betty Rodden hit Hope's first three points with Dee Singleton and Mary Beth Millican hitting baskets for an early 7-0 lead. A jumpshot by Rodden at the basket gave the Ladycats a 9-2 lead at the quarters end.

Both teams traded points on almost even terms in the second quarter. Rodden hit two free shots for a 11-4 lead with 5:10 left in the half.

With 4:57 left Singleton started a 3 1/2 minute scoring spree, getting eleven points for Hope while Foreman got eight, as the score held 22-14, at halftime.

The Ladycats almost dominated the second half as everyone got in the action.

Rodden hit four points and Millican two for a 28-16 lead with 5:07 left. Singleton hit three baskets and Rodden a free throw for a 34-18 margin.

With 0:54 left Singleton hit back to back baskets to give the Ladycats a 39-18 lead with one quarter to go.

Hope raised the score to 42-20 and with 4:43 to go, Belinda East hit a three point play and scored later a basket, for a 47-21 cushion.

Singleton hit a pair of charity shots and four points by East with 1:30 left, finished the scoring.

The defense played a fine game and deserve much credit. Sharon East, Cindy Hollis and Janice Hobson, blocked several shots, and got many of the rebounds which enabled the offense to get the point machine going.

Others seeing action and also playing a good game were Louise Kramer, Renee Quillen, Sharon Brown, Jennifer Rhodes, and Rita Taylor.

Brown Lifts Tech Into AIC Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Paul Brown, Arkansas Tech's season scoring leader, lifted the Wonder Boys into the AIC playoff Monday night when he dropped in an eight-foot jump shot that gave Tech a 73-71 overtime victory over Southern State at Magnolia.

Brown's field goal came with eight seconds remaining in the overtime. Brown, who finished with 22 points, also sank a field goal with six seconds remaining in regulation time to send the game into overtime.

The victory gave Tech a 15-3 conference record and left Southern State with a 12-5 mark. Both teams have one conference game remaining.

Henderson, Ouachita and Arkansas College had previously secured spots in the playoff which begins next Monday night.

In other conference action, Henderson beat Ouachita for the second time this season 71-62, Arkansas A&M squeaked past Arkansas College 65-63, Harding blasted Ozarks 111-98 and State College of Arkansas rallied to whip Hendrix 85-79.

John Gross led Tech scorers Monday night with 27 points and the 6-foot-8 post man pulled down 14 rebounds. Terry Hankton added 14 points for the Wonder Boys.

Harry Hughes scored 21 and Al Falanigan 18 for Southern State. Henderson and Ouachita were tied 36-36 at the half and Ouachita

Both Mena, Hope Need Wins Badly

By RALPH ROUNTON

When the Hope Bobcats host the Mena Bobcats tonight at Jones Field House, the scene will be two 4-A teams needing badly to win. The results should be obvious.

It will be the first meeting of Hope and Mena on the basketball floor, in recent times at least. The Bobcats are the newest additions to Region 4-A after outgrowing the 7-A classification which they dominated for so long.

Now Mena is 10-10, compared to Hope's 9-12, though both have met the state's best. While the Bobcats have met the likes of Camden Lincoln, Malvern, and Fairview before the loss of Shady Patton to appendicitis, the Bearcats have played regular games against such as Fort Smith Southside, Hot Springs, and even some powers from the central part of the state.

Hope regards this as a must game, after losses last weekend of 72-55 at Arkadelphia and 81-56 at Malvern extended that losing streak to six games. And it was a month ago tonight, on January 17, that the Cats last won, in a 69-58 overtime thriller over Arkadelphia.

With 6-6 John Dudley and 6-5 Larry Muldrew, the Bobcats will command a strong height and inside advantage. Mena is led by 6-2 Junior Jim Barton, who as the team's tallest player also leads the scoring with an average of 17 ppg.

Like Hope, the Bearcats have been rebuilding after Coach Jim Rackley lost his five starters from last winter's 7-A champions.

Although exact final decisions are still unclear, yesterday a possibility arose of adding a junior or boys game to the "B" and "A" games already slated. Regardless, the first game at Jones Field House should be tipping off at 6:30 p.m.

Kittens got there when Joyce split the net from the right corner and Ingram got open for an inside layup to tie the game.

As 2:31 remained, Freeland got under to put Crossett ahead 33-31, and a foul shot left the score 34-32 only 90 seconds before the end.

Guard Phil Wright was fouled, and the Eaglet made his first one but missed the bonus attempt. However, teammate Penn threw the rebound back for a 37-32 lead. Ingram made both ends of a one-and-one with a minute to go, but four turnovers in the last 60 seconds did the final damage.

Crossett starter Spencer was assessed a technical foul 11 seconds before the end as his foreruns led 37-34, and Ingram made the penalty shot to create the final situation at 37-35.

But the romanticists' finish never came off, or in other words, those last 11 ticks didn't make any difference.

As least after this evening and maybe already, the Yerger Junior High teams have now finished their 1969-70 campaigns. Everybody's season will come under the crystal ball in this column in the next weeks, and the spring sports make their way to the scene.

Kentucky Closer to SE Crown

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
You can't blame the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers if they don't care much for this new math. After all, how would you feel if you were leading the Ohio Valley Conference by four games with only three games left and hadn't clinched the title?

That strange situation came about Monday night when the 16th-ranked Hilltoppers whipped Tennessee Tech 100-64 for an 11-0 OVC mark while runner-up Murray State, 7-4, lost to Morehead 97-33.

However, Murray's protest over Saturday's 79-78 loss to Eastern Kentucky was upheld by OVC Commissioner Art Guepe after the scoreboard clock somehow skipped the last 10 seconds.

But those missing seconds will be played only if needed to determine the outcome of the race. The only way that can happen is for Murray to win its remaining three OVC games while Western Kentucky loses its three. Then Murray would have a chance to wipe out Saturday's loss and throw the race into a playoff.

Elsewhere Monday night, second-ranked Kentucky moved a step closer toward a 25th Southwestern Conference title with a 116-86 rout of Georgia Tech at 14th-ranked Notre Dame crushed Tulane 115-80 as Austin Carr poured in 53 points and set a one-season school record, and Kansas State, ranked 18th, opened up a three-game lead in the Big Eight by edging Missouri 63-60.

Kentucky's 6-foot-8 Dan Issel won his battle with Georgia's 6-11 Bob Lennard, outscoring him 40-18 and outrebounding him 15-9. The victory gave the Wildcats a 20-1 record, 12-1 in SEC play.

It was the 21st time a Kentucky team coached by Adolph Rupp reached the 20-win plateau and the 116 points cracked the Wildcats' home court record by one.

Mike Pratt added 23 points for Kentucky. Lanny Taylor paced Georgia with 31.

Notre Dame's Carr, the nation's second leading scorer, boosted his season total to 781, erasing Tom Hawkins' mark of 729. Carr hit on 22 of 35 shots, breaking his own school record of 20 field goals.

The national scoring leader, Prolife Pete Maravich, added 46 more although he sank only 18 of 46 shots as Louisiana State got by Auburn 70-64 and stayed alive in the SEC pending Kentucky's Saturday visit.

Maravich's expected duel with Auburn's John Mengert never came off, though. Mengert, who scored 60 against Alabama on Saturday, had the flu and played with 102-degree temperature, managing 23 points.

Kansas State moved ahead of Missouri for good 57-56 on Eddie Smith's 20-foot jump shot with 1:40 remaining. Smith then hit a layup for a three-point bulge and the Wildcats wrapped it up with four free throws in the final 14 seconds.

Elsewhere, Utah State outlasted Arizona State 112-102, Oklahoma State defeated Iowa State 72-62, Tennessee tripped Florida 72-61, Vanderbilt whipped Alabama 101-79, Dayton downed New Orleans Loyola 83-73 and Creighton turned back San Francisco 58-48.

The top-ranked small college team, Stephen F. Austin, clinched the Lone Star Conference crown with an 85-73 triumph over McMurry.

Small Man Is Casting a Long Shadow

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Mikita of the Chicago Black Hawks is only 5-foot-9, but he is casting a long shadow on two Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League scoring race.

Mikita, off to a very slow start after winning the scoring title four of the last six seasons, has suddenly caught fire and pulled into third place with 67 points, behind Bobby Orr's 85 and Phil Esposito's 73, according to statistics released Monday.

It would seem that Orr, who scored three points last week, has a safe lead. But Mikita was 25 points behind a week ago and now is only 18 after adding 10 points last week on five goals and five assists. In Chicago's

Frazier New Heavyweight Champion

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Frazier is the undisputed king of the heavyweights and he gained his crown by force—sheer brute force. Now he's a champion with nobody to fight.

"Now I'm gonna retire," Frazier kidded Monday night after knocking out Jimmy Ellis. "I am going to sing rock and roll until that fellow who wanted to give me a belt wants to fight me."

Frazier referred to Cassius Clay, deposed as champion after refusing to enter military service. Clay had offered to give his Ring Magazine championship belt to the winner.

Frazier, tauntingly confident, clubbed Ellis senseless after four rounds of their scheduled 15-round title fight at Madison Square Garden.

Ellis, down twice from sledgehammer blows in the fourth round, was unable to answer the bell for the fifth, and it went into the books as a five-round knockout.

"I've tried to be the best fighter in the world," said the unbeaten 26-year-old Frazier who looked every bit that in making Ellis his 22nd knockout victim in 25 victories.

Boston attorney John Cronin, who represents English boxing interests, said Frazier, who went into the Ellis fight as a six-state champion, and Manager Yancey Durham have been invited to go to London to watch the Henry Cooper-Jack Dodell fight March 24.

Promoters Harry Levane and Jarvis Astaire want Frazier to fight the winner.

Ellis entered the bout as the World Boxing Association champion and came out with his ring future clouded, although he said he would continue fighting.

Ellis, a boxer with a good right hand, started out well, catching Frazier with some solid combinations to the head and winning the first round on the cards of all three officials.

The tide began to turn in the second round, with the swarming Frazier, his arms pumping like pistons, applying pressure and not letting Ellis stay away.

In the third round, Frazier, at 205 four pounds heavier than Ellis who was the heaviest of his career, showed what was to come.

He hurt Ellis with a left hook to the jaw and pummeled him on the ropes before Ellis finally escaped. Frazier then staggered Ellis with another hard hook, and after Ellis retaliated with a right, Frazier staggered Ellis with another hook.

Moments later, Frazier applied the finisher—a smashing left hook to the head that sent Ellis crashing to the canvas on his back.

The bell rang at five, but referee Tony Perez, under New York rules, kept counting. Somehow Ellis got up at nine, but there was little doubt that last eight games, he has 10 goals and 12 assists.

Esposito, last year's scoring champion, managed only one point last week.

Mikita is the top goal-getter with 33 and Orr leads in assists with 64.

New York's goal-tending tandem of Ed Giacomin and Terry Sawchuk held a slight edge over Tony Esposito and Denis Deory of Chicago, giving up three less goals in 53 games for a 2.25 goal per game average to the Black Hawks' 2.36.

When the bell rang for the fifth round Manager Angelo Dundee refused to let Ellis come out, saying later that the fighter simply did not respond.

It was the sixth defeat in 28 fights and the first knockout loss for Ellis, 29, who was making his first start since outpointing Floyd Patterson in 15 rounds at Stockholm Sept. 14, 1968. His other five losses came when he campaigned as a middleweight.

Logan Wishes He Hadn't Come Home

The American Basketball Association came to Cullowhee in behalf of Henry Logan, but Logan probably wishes he hadn't come home.

New York's resurgent Nets edged the Washington Caps 117-114 in Monday night's only ABA game—played at Cullowhee, N.C., because the Caps' Logan was a standout there at Western Carolina College.

A crowd of 4,438 turned out for the event, but Logan didn't score a point, while Lavern Tart hit 26 for the Nets and Walt Simon dropped in two late free throws to send them ahead to stay.

In National Basketball Association action, also played off the beaten track, Boston shaded San Francisco 117-114 at Salt Lake City, Utah, and Baltimore pounded San Diego 140-109 at Houston.

Simon's two foul shots broke a 109-109 deadlock at Cullowhee, and the Caps never caught up. Mike Barrett's desperation three-point field goal attempt falling short with eight seconds remaining.

Rick Barry of Washington was the game's high scorer with 29 points.

The Celtics blew most of a 12-point fourth quarter lead before Don Nelson's basket with 11 seconds to play sealed the victory.

Dundee Tells Why He Halted Title Fight

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Angelo Dundee, battling the clock, played a speeded up game of twenty questions with Jimmy Ellis after Joe Frazier had decked his fighter twice in the fourth round of their world heavyweight championship fight Monday night.

"He wasn't responding," said Dundee, "so I stopped the fight."

Frazier, who settled the long-muddled heavyweight picture once and for all with his decisive victory, decked Ellis with a pair of left hook bombs. The first laid Jimmy out on his stomach and the second had him on his back.

Both times Ellis arose at the count of nine—the second time after the bell had sounded when referee Tony Perez reached five and kept counting.

Someone asked Ellis when he picked up the count. "At five," Jimmy replied, "Both times?" another man asked, "I only went down once," said Ellis.

"Gentlemen," broke in Dundee, "now you know why I stopped the fight."

Frazier leaped high into the arms of his manager, Yank Durham, when Dundee waved off the referee, indicating that his fighter would not answer the fifth round bell. But the victory wasn't exactly a surprise for Smokey Joe. He took control of the bout in the second round and let Ellis know it.

"I was laughing and talking to him," said Frazier. In the third, Frazier carried on a regular conversation.

"He caught me with a good right but it didn't hurt," said Frazier. "I said you sissy, you hit me with your best shots but you can't hurt me."

Then in the fourth, Frazier opened up on Ellis and decked him with a solid left hook. Jimmy dropped to one knee and then fell flat on the canvas.

"He caught me with a clean left hook," said Ellis.

Ellis took the count and then was a sitting duck for Frazier who swarmed in for the kill. Joe belted him freely, finally dropping him again—this time on his back—with another thunderous left.

It looked like Ellis would be counted out right then and there as referee Perez continued to toll off the seconds after the bell sounded.

But he got up on instinct and made it back to his corner where Dundee rushed into action.

"I asked him some questions — maybe 20," said the veteran manager. "But he wasn't responding to anything. I tried water and banging on his knee but he wasn't coming around. He wanted to continue but I wouldn't let him."

The fight was Ellis' first after an 18-month layoff but he claimed the idleness didn't bother him.

"I don't think a tuneup fight would have made any difference," he said, "not when you get hit with a left hook like that."

Frazier, who by winning added World Boxing Association

Decision in Hockey Fight to Be Decided

OTTAWA (AP) — Provincial Judge Edward Carter is expected to decide today whether winger Wayne Maki of the St. Louis Blues committed assault causing bodily harm when he clubbed under Ted Green of the Boston Bruins in a National Hockey League exhibition game here last Sept. 21.

Maki, 26, of Sault Ste. Marie, who pleaded not guilty to the charge when his trial opened Monday, told the court he was only trying to protect himself and his career in the stick duel with Green that sent the Boston defenseman to the hospital with a fractured skull. Green required two operations and is due for a third Wednesday. He hasn't played since September.

Immediately after the Maki verdict, Green is expected to face the same charge.

Maki is believed to be the first NHL player ever to face such a serious charge resulting from an ice brawl. The maximum penalty is two years in jail.

Recognition to the six-state heavyweight crown he has held since March 4, 1968, said that Ellis took his best bombs.

"When I hit him," Joe said, "my hands felt like when you hit a baseball real good with the bat and it goes sailing out into the open field."

There was no return clause in contract and Frazier said he would "retire and sing some rock and roll until that man Cassius Clay or Muhammad Ali or whatever you call him comes back."

Clay, stripped of the heavyweight crown after refusing to serve in the armed forces, had picked Ellis, his former sparring partner, to beat Frazier. He watched the fight in a Philadelphia theater and left quickly after it was over, saying "Those guys are always trying to take my job."

Golfers Think Desert Classic Is a Farce

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Notes from the pro golf tournament trial:

It's very possible—not assured or even probable, just possible—that the unusual and often confusing format of the Bob Hope Desert Classic may be changed next year.

Many pros don't like it. A lot of big names skip it.

There is a lot of sentiment for change to a more normal, 72-hole event, possibly with a three-day pro-am along the lines of the Bing Crosby.

Its present format calls for 60 holes—the only one on the schedule. The first four rounds are played on four courses, with the pro playing a different course every day in the company of a different set of three amateurs.

It's slow and, particularly on Saturday, often wild with the clowning show-business celebrities leading a different sort of atmosphere.

"A three-ring circus," Billy Casper called it.

Four regular Steve Reid missed the cut for the final two rounds at a recent tournament and the following day was seen in the gallery, wandering around the course.

"Just thought I'd see what it's like from this angle," he said.

"Fascinating game," he said, shaking his head in mock

Ex-Champ Says Ellis Was Not in Shape

By JAMES J. BRADDOCK
Former World Heavyweight Champion

NEW YORK (AP) — For two amazement "Fascinating."

Ron Coffman, a former staff writer for Golf World Magazine, recently joined the field staff of the PGA's Tournament Players Division as an advance public relations man.

Now a staff member at the Tournament Players Division headquarters in Florida is leaving to join Golf World.

Straight player swap, no cash involved.

Lee Trevino commenting on playing desert courses:

"Heading the greens, you always look at the mountains. The ball always breaks away from the mountain. If there are mountains all around, look at the nearest one."

Haywood Has Taken Over Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Spencer Haywood of Denver has overtaken Bob Verga for the scoring lead in the American Basketball Association.

Haywood, a rookie who passed up his final season of eligibility at Detroit to play pro ball, scored 34 points in his only game last week raising his average to 27.3 per contest.

Verga of Carolina had led for five straight weeks until he dropped to 27.1.

Haywood also leads in most points with 1,529 in 56 games and his 26 rebounds last week gave him a league leading 1,121, or 20.0 a game.

Moreover, Rick Barry of Washington, returning from an injury, is the league's hottest scorer. The former National Basketball Association and defending ABA scoring champion has a 31.2 average in 11 games since the All-Star game. His over-all average is 22.3 in 25 games.

Byron Beck of Denver leads in 2-point field goal percentage at 53.3 per cent and Denver's Jeff Congdon leads in 3-point goals, 42.7. Darel Carrier is the free throw leader at 89.4 per cent and Larry Brown of Washington leads in assists with 352 for a 6.29 average.

From then on, Ellis fought on instinct.

I am not ashamed of my picking Ellis. I have been wrong before.

Nixon Calls for Lower Voting Age

By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration asked Congress today to follow the lead of Great Britain and approve a constitutional amendment lowering the voting age to 18 for federal elections.

The administration position was presented by Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, who noted that Britain—which originated the traditional voting age of 21—recently abandoned it.

"The time has come for us also to measure the constraints of custom and tradition against the compelling force of reason and the every-day facts of life which surround us," Kleindienst said.

He told a Senate judiciary subcommittee the nation does not wait until 21 years of age for young people to enter the labor market, to pay income taxes or to serve in the military.

Kleindienst also suggested a uniform voting age of 18 is necessary if Congress clears another amendment, already approved by the House, for direct election of presidents and vice presidents by popular vote.

"Without a nationwide rule," he said, "it is possible that states would arbitrarily lower the age requirement to insure the largest number of prospective voters and thus obtain an unfair share of the presidential popular vote—completely out of line with its percentage of population."

Answering arguments of amendment opponents who cite involvement of college students in violent demonstrations, Kleindienst said "the proper response" to that objection is threefold:

—Many persons involved in campus rebellions "are well past the age of 21."

—Those who have engaged in disturbances "represent only a small percentage" of young Americans.

—Giving youth a role in the political process "may eliminate a sense of frustration, a feeling of noninvolvement, that quite possibly has contributed to the irresponsible behavior" of some young people.

The proposed amendment would only affect elections for president, vice president, U.S. senators and members of the House of Representatives.

Kleindienst said the administration believes it is the province of state and local governments to establish the voting age for nonfederal elections.

Fact That Computers Are Retired Also Is Comfort to Man of 40

By BILL RAWLINS
Associated Press Writer
OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — In an age when a man is considered over the hill at 40—and the boss suspects a machine could do a better job—it is comforting to know that computers, too, reach retirement age.

After only seven years, it happened to the 1604 computer in the Oak Ridge National Laboratory's mathematics division. Seven years of round-the-clock toil, doing the work of 1,400 men left old 1604 pretty well burned out.

He took time out for fun only during yuletide, when he sang carols with the rest of the gang. But his penchant for song and 36,101 consecutive hours of toil counted for nothing. Without so much as a gold watch, 1604 was retired—terminated, obsolete and surplus property. His replacement: two more computers.

Before man can have the last laugh, however, he must consider that computers, unlike

Rights, Labor Attacks Decision on Seized Liquor Is Upheld

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee's strong endorsement of G. Harold Carswell's nomination to the Supreme Court has brought on tough-worded attacks from civil rights and labor leaders but no indication of major Senate reaction against the Southern judge.

The committee's 13-4 vote Monday was immediately assailed by Clarence Mitchell, director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's Washington office and spokesman for the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, and the AFL-CIO.

The committee's support was "a kick in the teeth of those of us who have sought to quell the fires of racism among Negroes in the United States," Mitchell said.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., one of those who voted against the Tallahassee, Fla., federal judge, said Carswell's appointment would "encourage violent extremists."

The AFL-CIO meeting in Miami Beach issued a statement saying the prospect of Carswell, now a judge on the U.S. 5th Court of Appeals, being confirmed to the highest court in the land was "appalling."

"Such a nomination is an insult, both to the judiciary and to the nation's citizens," the labor organization said.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, who announced his opposition over the weekend, said "Judge Carswell's record reflects neither the high professional qualifications nor the freedom from bias that are expected from an appointee to the nation's highest tribunal."

But six of the committee's 10 Democrats and all seven of the Republicans voted to approve Carswell, confirmed by the Senate just last June for the appeals court.

Senate Near Decision on School Issue

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate reached the time of decision today on proposals designed to check the drive toward school integration now in full swing in the South.

The initial vote was set on an amendment by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., to a $3.5 billion education bill seeking a uniform policy for school desegregation throughout the nation.

Stennis' amendment provided the government must move as vigorously against Northern de facto segregation—that caused primarily by neighborhood patterns—as it does against de jure, or legal, segregation in the South.

Stennis changed signals Monday night just before the Senate adjourned, deciding to bring up the national policy proposal first ahead of a rider seeking to legalize freedom of choice plans in the South.

He obviously had concluded the uniform national policy had the better chance of the two.

He and his fellow Southerners have been arguing that the federal courts and HEW have concentrated their entire fight on racial segregation against Southern schools.

They say residential segregation in the North is as severe as legal segregation in the South.

Managers of the big education bill said they now were confident it would pass the Senate this week, possibly Wednesday or Thursday.

President Nixon Monday set up a cabinet working-level group to see what the government can do to help school districts carry out desegregation orders and still preserve the public education system.

Nixon reiterated his statement of last week that he believed in a uniform national desegregation policy and the minimum possible disruption of school routines, whether by busing or otherwise.

He said that to the extent the Stennis amendment would carry out this concept, it has the President's support.

Decision on Seized Liquor Is Upheld

A municipal court decision involving 997 cases of liquor seized here October 24, 1969 by law enforcement officers, was upheld Monday by Circuit Judge W.H. Arnold III of Texarkana.

Municipal Judge John L. Wilson had ruled that the liquor was contraband and authorized Hempstead County Judge Finis Odum to sell it. Cactus Distributing Co. of Phoenix, Arizona, owner of the liquor, appealed to Circuit Court. Under the law the money from contraband whiskey goes to county in which the liquor was seized.

The decision was based on a 1969 law prohibiting whiskey from being trucked across Arkansas without a permit from the State Commerce Commission. Estimated value of the liquor is in excess of $50,000.

In other action Monday a five year probation sentence against Ira Lee West on charges of burglary and grand larceny in Oct. 1969 was revoked. West is charged on new count of burglary allegedly committed earlier this year. Sentencing will come later this week.

He called for a constitutional amendment setting the age for voting on presidential, and congressional candidates.

CHICAGO (AP) — Defense attorneys say the lengthy deliberation by the jury in the trial of seven men charged with conspiring to cause riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention raises defense hopes of an ultimate deadlock. The jury entered its fourth day of deliberations today. Around the country, Monday, demonstrations were held protesting Judge Julius J. Hoffman's actions over the weekend in sentencing the defendants and their attorneys for contempt of court.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A petition filed in the California Court of Appeal contends the judge who will preside over the murder trial of Charles M. Manson compromised himself by watching a skit lampooning the hippie-type clan leader and his followers. Manson and five members of his "family" are charged with killing actress Sharon Tate and six other persons.
